LAUFER GROUP INTERNATIONAL, LTD. EXPANDS ITS NATIONAL NETWORK WITH NEW OFFICES IN SAN FRANCISCO AND NORFOLK

NEW YORK, NY 2011 – Global Logistics Company Laufer Group International, headquartered in New York City, continues to expand its national coverage with the openings of its new offices in San Francisco, CA and Norfolk, VA. Both branches will provide customers with Laufer’s full suite of international logistics services, including door-to-door ocean & air import and export, customs brokerage and contract management.

“Laufer's rapid growth is a result of our commitment to an outstanding customer experience. Our offices in San Francisco and Norfolk will continue to expand our geographic scope and enhance our ability to reach out to new geographic customer bases,” say Mark Laufer, President of Laufer Group International. “We are extremely excited about our recent expansion and look forward to introducing customers in these areas to the different solutions that Laufer can offer.”

The San Francisco and Norfolk offices are the second and third branches opened this year, following the development of the company’s Chicago station, announced in early April. Laufer’s network expansion additionally supports the company’s ongoing initiative to increase its visibility in the export market.
